

Grammar Mastery - Day 2

10 original questions | Reading and Writing

Complete the questions before turning to the answer explanations. Mark any guess, even if it turns out to be correct. For math, show your setup and check the requested quantity. For reading, identify the exact supporting detail; for grammar, identify the clause or subject.

These questions were authored for this workbook from the lesson topics. They are not official SAT questions or copies of the course's paid practice.

Answers & explanations

Count correct answers, but also review correct guesses. Redo missed questions after a day without looking at the solution.

1: B 2: A 3: D 4: C 5: B 6: A 7: D 8: C 9: B 10: B

Why each answer works

- 1. Answer: B. The two independent clauses are The dye initially appeared brown and under ultraviolet light, it glowed bright green. Use a semicolon between them and a comma after however.
- 2. Answer: A. The complete clause introduces an explanatory list, so a colon is appropriate.
- 3. Answer: D. Included directly introduces its objects. A boundary would separate the verb from its objects; the words before the blank are not a complete clause.
- 4. Answer: C. A matching dash closes the parenthetical interruption. The underlying clause is The ridge provided a route.
- 5. Answer: B. Each list item contains a comma separating city and state. Semicolons clarify the boundaries between complex items.
- 6. Answer: A. Two independent clauses are joined by and. A comma before the coordinating conjunction separates them.
- 7. Answer: D. Stored and checked are coordinated predicate parts with the same subject. Do not separate them with a clause boundary.
- 8. Answer: C. The restrictive that-clause identifies which painting was acquired and stays integrated with its noun.
- 9. Answer: B. The sentence reports an indirect question. It is a statement and ends with a period.
- 10. Answer: B. Both sides are independent clauses. A semicolon is valid. A comma alone creates a comma splice; no punctuation creates a run-on.

For each missed or guessed question, record the skill, the condition you overlooked, and one specific action for next time.
